A Good One.

"A Wise Woman," which has been secured for one night some time in the near future at the opera house is headed by a young woman who for the past three years has been a member of Augustus Daly's company, and has attracted an amount of attention from the critics that rarely falls to so young an artist. The young lady referred to is Marie Lanout.

A thoroughly new and novel scenic version of "Rip Van Winkle" is one of the season's most desirable theatrical offerings and although this play is well known, yet it has never during its numerous engagements been so gorgeously staged with picturesque settings, brilliant electrical features and mechanical arrangements that are modern. "Rip Van Winkle" in the hands of the versatile exceptionally talented actor along with his associates have been selected for their particular fitness for the various roles in this grand play and though the title may seem a bit antique—the play is played as never before. "Rip Van Winkle" comes to the Opera House, with every
